

FAQs

Why should I consider a secure destruction service?

If not disposed of securely, information contained within your documents or other media could fall into the wrong hands where it is likely to be used fraudulently which could have a devastating effect on your company.

Can A.C. Morrison Limited dispose of branded products?

Yes we can securely dispose of such items as branded merchandise, uniforms and security passes.

Do I have to agree to a regular collection service?

No. Our service is flexible and we are able to meet the appropriate timings for each individual client.

How should I contain confidential waste prior to collection?

This depends on the type of confidential waste and the space available. We can provide bins or reusable sacks, and we are happy to discuss your individual needs as well as being flexible to ensure our service evolves appropriately effectively.

How does the service work?

We collect the confidential material and transport it to the appropriate destruction centre where it will be securely destroyed the same day.

Where do you carry out your services?

We mostly operate in and around the City of London and Essex.

Why should I chose A.C. Morrison Limited?

We are a small company and have built up a strong and reliable team, where the majority of staff have worked together for more than 20 years. We value all our customers and that is why they stay with us.
